27 April 2026

BrightLearn Business Analytics Terminology Activity
Research Assignment 2

Section A: Foundation Concepts of Analytics

1. Business Analytics:

, This is a process of using data to understand how a business is perfoming and to support decision-making. It looks at patterns in past data and also uses models to predict future outcomes.

Example:

, A Supermarket analyzes past sales & predicts which products will be in high demand during the holidays, then it stocks more of those items.

Source:

, Investopedia (2024) and Havard Business Review (2023)

2. Data Analytics:

, This is a process of collecting raw facts and figures (raw data) and analyze it /manipulate it in order to find patterns /insights ~~of~~ ~~to~~ What happened & how it happened. This is not business focused it can be even done in healthcare.

Example:

, A hospital studies patient data to identify common illness during the winter season.

Source: , Investopedia (2024)

Powered by CamScanner

3. Business Intelligence:

/ These are basically Tools and Systems involvement process that are being driven by data to find patterns and data insights. These tools and Systems results in showing reports & dashboards derived by the found patterns & insights. Focuses on the past and present not the future.

Example:

/ A manager uses a dashboard to see daily sales & track performance of each store branch.

Source: / Microsoft learn (2024) / Investopedia (2024)

4. Data-Driven Decision Making:

/ This is basically making decisions based on data avaliable. Actual data is used to make decisions instead of guesses or opinions

Example:

/ A company decides to launch a new product only after data shows high customer demand.

Source:

/ Havard Business Review (2023)

5. Big Data:

/ This is extremely large and complex data. This is data that grows fast and comes in many forms (text, video, numbers).

Example:

/ A social media platform processes million of posts, videos, and comments everyday to understand the user behavior.

Powered by CamScanner

Source: , IBM (2024) , Investopedia (2024)

6. Descriptive Analytics:

~~These are da~~

, This is data driven analysis that tells us what already happened like a sales report.

Example:

, A monthly report shows ~~what~~ that a company made a certain amount in sales last month.

Source: , IBM (2024)

7. Diagnostic Analytics:

, This is also data driven analytics that tells us why did something ~~pa~~ happen (the cause) like why sales dropped.

Example:

, A business finds out that the sales dropped because their competitor dropped their prices

Source: , IBM (2024)

8. Predictive Analytics:

, This is also data driven analytics that tells us/guesses what might happen next based on what happened and why did it happen.

Example:

, An online store predicts that sales will increase during Black Friday based on past trends.

Powered by CamScanner

Source: , SAS(2024)

9. Prescriptive Analytics:
, Data driven analytics that recommends what actions to take based on the data patterns & insights of what happened.

Example:
, A System recommends offering discounts to increase sales during slow periods.

Source: , IBM(2024)

10. Data literacy:
, This is a key 21st century skill ~~that~~ of being able to understand, read, and use data correctly and efficiently.

Example:
, An employee ~~current~~ correctly reads a sales chart and understands that the revenue is decreasing.

Source: , Qlik(2024)

Section 2: Data Measurement & Reporting:

11. Structured data:
, This is data that has a consistent format and it can be organized into a tabular format with rows & columns.

Example:
, Excel & databases (A company stores customer details like names and phone numbers in a database table).

Powered by CamScanner

Source: , Investopedia (2024)

12. Unstructured Data:
, This is data that is not organized. It has ~~incofst~~ inconsistent format and cannot be converted into a tabular format.

Example:
, Images (A business analyzes customer reviews, images, & social media comments.

Source: , IBM (2024)

13. Data Warehouse:
, This is a central place where large amount of databases with large amounts of data for analysis later.

Example:
, A retail company stores its sales data from different branches in one central system.

Source: , IBM (2024)

14. Data Mining:
, This is a process of finding patterns and hidden data insights in large datasets.

Example:
, A bank analyzes customer data to detect pattern of fraud.

Source: , Investopedia (2024)

Powered by CamScanner

15. Data visualization:
, This is the process of showing the collected data using charts, graphs or visuals to make it easier to understand especially for the non-technical team of the business.

Example:
, A Company presents sales data using ~~datap~~ graphs & charts in a report.

Source: , Tableau (2024)

16: Dashboard:
, This is a Screen that shows ~~&~~ Key data and ~~it's perfo~~ the business / company performance in real time.

Example:
, A marketing team monitors live campaign performance on a Screen.

Source: Microsoft Learn (2024)

17. Metric:
, This is basically any number that is used to measure Something just like a number of website visitors.

Example:
, A website that tracks a number of visitors it recieves daily.

Source: , Investopedia (2024)

18. Key Performance Indicator (KPI):

Powered by CamScanner

/ This is a specific important metric that helps to track a business sucess and it helps to drive decisions.

Example:
/ A company tracks monthly revenue as a key indicator of success.

Source: / Havard Business Review (2023)

19. Benchmark:
/ A standard / reference point that businesses use to compare their performance. It can be based on industry averages, competitors, or past results.

Example:
/ A business compares its sales performance to industry averages.

Sources: / Investopedia (2024)

20. Segmentation:
/ This is a process of diving customers into smaller groups based on shared characteristics such as age, location or buying behavior. Businesses get to better understand their customers and target them more effectively.

Example:
/ An Online Store group customers by age & buying behavior to target Ads.

Source: / Hubspot (2024)

Powered by CamScanner

Section 3: Customer Sales & KPIs

21. Conversion Rate:

, A percentage of people who complete a desired action, such as making a purchase / signing up. It is calculated by comparing the number of actions taken to the total number of visitors. A higher conversion rate means a business is turning interest into results.

Example:

, Out of 100 website visitors, 10 make a purchase → 10% conversion rate.

Source: , ~~Business~~ business.com (2026)

22. Customer Acquisition Cost (CAC):

, This is the total amount a business spends to gain a new customer. It helps businesses understand how much they are investing to grow their customer base.

Example:

, A company spends A company spends R1000 on ads and gains 10 customers → CAC = R100 per customer.

Source: , Marketing Analytics (2024)

23. Customer Lifetime Value (CLV / LTV):

, This is the total amount of revenue a business expects to earn from a customer over the entire relationship. It considers repeat purchases and long-term engagement.

Powered by CamScanner

Example:
, CLV:CAC Ratio
if CLV = R12,000 and CAC = R1,000 -> good ratio (a business is profitable).

Source: , DHIT Marketing KPIs (2024)

24. Churn Rate:
, The percentage of customers who stop using a product or a service over a certain period. It shows how many customers a business is losing.

Example:
, A streaming youtuber loses 50 subscribers out of 500 -> 10% churn rate.

Source: , business.com (2026)

25. Customer Retention Rate:
, It measures the percentage of customers who continue to do business with a company overtime. An opposite of churn Rate.

Example:
, A streaming youtuber keeps 490 subscribers out of 500 -> 90% retention rate.

Source: , HubSpot (2024)

26. Net Promoter Score (NPS)
, This measures how likely customers are to recommend a business to others. It is usually based on a rating scale from 0 to 10.

Powered by CamScanner

Example:
, Customers rate how likely they are to recommend a brand from 0-10.

Source: , Harvard Business Review (2023)

27. Average Order Value (AOV):
, This is an average amount of money a customer spends per transaction. It is calculated by dividing total revenue by the number of orders.

Example:
, If the total sales are R10 000 from 50 orders → AOV = R200.

Source: , Google Analytics Help (2024)

28. Sales Funnel:
, It describes the steps a customer goes through before making a purchase. Businesses use it to understand & improve customer journey.

Example:
, A customer sees an ad → visits the website → adds to cart → ~~buyt~~ buys a product.

Source: , HubSpot (2024)

Section 4: Marketing & Campaign Analytics:

29. Marketing Campaign:
, These are planned set of activities designed to promote a product, services, or brand. The goal is to reach a specific audience and achieve measurable results.

Powered by CamScanner

Example:
/ A company runs a social media ad campaign to promote a new product.

Source: ~~McKinsey & Company (2023).~~ , G2 Marketing Analytics (2023)

30. Post-Campaign Analysis:
/ This is a process of reviewing the results after a marketing campaign has ended. It helps businesses to understand what worked well and what did not. This information is used to improve future campaigns.

~~31. Increp~~
Example:
/ After a campaign, a business reviews sales and engagement to measure success.

Source: , ~~Sona Marketing Analy~~ Mc Kinsey & Company (2023)

31 Incremental Revenue:
/ An additional income generated as a direct result of a specific action, such as marketing campaign. This helps to measure the true impact of an initiative.

Example:
/ A campaign generates R20 000 more than usual sales → that extra is incremental revenue

Source: , Sona Marketing Analytics (2024)

Powered by CamScanner

32. Return On Investment (ROI):

, This Measures how much profit is made compared to the cost of an investment. It helps a business whether an activity is financially worthwhile.

Example:

, A company spends R5 000 and earns R15 000, profite shows a positive ROI

Source: , Sona Marketing Metrics (2024)

33. Return On Ad Spend (ROAS):

, Measures how much revenue is earned for every amount spent on advertising. It is focused on marketing performance.

Example:

, For every R1 spent on ads, the business earns R4 in revenue.

Source: , Sona Marketing Metrics (2024)

34. Click-Through Rate (CTR):

, The percentage of people who click on Ad / link after seeing it. It is calculated by dividing clicks by total views or impressions.

Example:

, 100 people see an ad, 50 clicks → CTR = 5%.

Source: , Marketing Terms (2024)

35. Bounce Rate:

, The percentage of visitors who leave a website without interacting with it. This could mean they did not click on anything or explore further pages.

Powered by CamScanner

Example:
/ Visitors leave a website immidiately without clicking anything.
Source: / Marketing Terms (2024)

36. A/B Testing:
/ A method of comparing two versions of something, such as a webpage or advertisement. One version is shown to one group, and the other one is shown to another group. The results help to determine which version performs better.

Example:
/ A company tests two version of an ad to see wich gets more clicks.

Source: / HubSpot (2024)

37. Lead Generation:
/ This is a process of attracting and collecting potential customers who are interested in a product or service. This is often done through forms, sign-ups, or promotions. These leads can later be converted into paying customers.

Example:
/ A websites collects emails from users who sign up for a newsletter.

Source: / HubSpot (2024)

38. Market Attribution:
/ A process of identifying which marketing channels contributed to a sale or a conversion. It helps businesses understand which efforts are most effective for better ~~marketing~~ allocation of marketing budgets.

Powered by CamScanner

Example:
, A business finds that most sales came from instagram ads, not email marketing.

Source: , business.com (2026).

Powered by CamScanner